ENJOY WITH YOUR FIVE SENSES

If you wish to enjoy a unique evening in the south of Tenerife, El Molino Blanco has everything you need. Its rustic style is a fundamental part of the charm of this restaurant, which opened 13 years ago in a beautifully conserved Canarian windmill. In Tenerife, the old windmills were used to grind cereal, which served as food for many people and is still today fundamental to the Canarian diet. However, there are very few windmills in a good state of conservation. The restaurant's magical atmosphere is the result of mixing many old Canarian objects with the tropical plants and flowers that are an integral part of Canarian nature. Open spaces, terraces, Canarian courtyards in the open air – these are just a few of the things that will make you feel as though you are in the middle of a fragrant tropical garden, even when you're indoors. So, whether you are a fan of good music or you just wish to enjoy a pleasant evening, there is a special table for you at El Molino Blanco!
